When one stops to think, necessity quite often makes a big difference in our way of living. Before the war, it seemed that everyone who could afford it, had to have a metal casket. When the making of metal caskets was discontinued, and necessity compelled people to buy wood caskets, it taught them the fine qualities of wood caskets for burial purposes, and a number of people will never goback to metal again. Ordinarily, wood caskets match the furnishings of most homes, and a wood casket, with a good vault, will always make a perfect

Postwar Atoms

Already this Nation is being asked what it is going to do about he atomic bomb at war's end. It would be easy to give a flippant "noneof-your-business" answer. The United States does not do things in that Davis, if we are to maintain power fashion. That is one reason for the greatness and prestige of America.

The atomic bomb is not a means of warfare that we would have used except in the last extremity of necessity. It came after Japan had of the Montgomery pamphlet. It refused a peace offer that was just, honorable and, in view of the Japs argues that profits per unit have It is axiomatic that even the as that little, old, beat-up tarantula not obey. And while the world, knowing the Japanese record, has no cause to censure our use of this weapon, it does have the right to expect us to take the initiative in banning it as an instrument of war

In this connection, the analogous case of poison gas might be noted. The nations of the world outlawed its use after World War I. Yet they get did not abandon research into its further possibilities, or development of the sit-down strikes for union rece

Chinese sources claim that the Japs have employed gas in this war. But if they have, it has not been a general practice, and there is seem to invalidate UAW's strategy no record of its use against Americans. The Germans did not use gas, of this war was that the Axis nations knew the Allies could beat them Such a procedure might guide the United States in dealing with the atomic bomb. Let us outlaw it. But let us not be so foolish as to abandon its research and development. No one need fear that we shall ever start an aggressive war. But until peace is secure and disarmament feasible, we should maintain our advantage in atomic warfare until

Get to know your Studebaker dealer now

He can give you many helpful tips on your motoring problems

> DURING nearly four years of war, Studebaker dealers won a unique reputation for their helpful service to the car owners and truck owners in their communities.

And now that the war has ended, you can confidently continue to regard your Studebaker dealer as a trustworthy source of information on your motoring problems.

Some beautiful new Studebaker Champion motor cars in a distinctive skyway styling will be available before long. But the production of these cars, for awhile at least, will be less than the demand. And, for a time, eligibility certificates, under government rationing procedures, very likely will be required of prospective pur-

With that in mind, Studebaker dealers are advising their customers that it isn't safe yet to stop giving constant care to most cars and trucks. To get the facts straight on your personal transportation outlook, drop in and get acquainted with Railroads are not builtthey are rebuilt!

→ Even though the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is 118 years old, it is always new. Today, you'd have a hard time finding a speck of the original B&O anywhere, except in its spirit of service and its old-fashioned courtesy. Physically, it is continuously rebuilding itself in every detail replacing and improving becoming more modern by the hour.

Every year, for example, hundreds of miles of new steel rails and millions of new cross-ties become a part of

B&O's 11,000 miles of track. New and more efficient steam and diesel locomotives, as well as passenger and freight cars, replace faithful, retiring "old timers". By adding here, replacing there, B&O keeps its service constantly as modern as today.

This unending job of building is your assurance that the B&O continues to bring to you and your community, as always, the finest in progress-making rail service.

Behind Those Jobs...

The curtain is down. The world's worst tragedy ended as it had to end. All that remains is grief and glory and the hope of lasting good will among men.

From here on in . . . our No. 1 Job is jobs-not Japs. Soberly, let's look at our No. 1 Job.

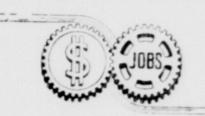

We start with inspiring leadership from Washington. What next? Factories must change form. The wheels of Peace must hum again. Goods must roll to market . . . faster, faster, faster. Pent-up demand for trusted brand names must be satisfied in full. And then some! Service "with a smile" must greet us again. Researchers must press on. Old products must improve. New products must emerge. America's production miracle must be re-enacted. And all Americans must have a part! What's behind all this? Necessity? Yes. Courage? Yes.

Know-how? Sure. Money?

You said it—All kinds of money. The people's savings. Life insurance companies' investable funds. Inheritance funds. The profits and reserves of business enterprises-large and small.

Spendable wages of workers. Thrift money. Venture money. Investment money. The world's biggest bank roll! Made in America. Belonging to millions of Americans. Working for all Americans -so all Americans may work.

To master our No. 1 Job speedily and efficiently—and to preserve our Freedom in the process-we must have money in motion. Money in hiding means idleness. Money in motion means men at work. It's as simple as that!

tion is the business and responsibility of the world's greatest financial mechanism. This UNITED STATES Exchange is only one vital cog. But it is vital. It does WAR BONDS work for all America! It does keep money in motion! It does maintain a free, competitive market where securities may be bought or sold-where prices are instantly known. It does take its business and responsibilities seriously. It does operate under rigid, self-imposed regulation—as well as government regulation.

When you use these facilities you keep money in motion. Your investment is not frozen. You can hold, sell at any time-and reinvest. But remember, risk is inherent in any form of ownership. The risk you take can spell L-O-S-S or G-A-I-N! Beware of tips, rumors, hunches. Get the habit get the Facts are available. Here's why. Before any company can list its securities in this investors' marketplace, that company agrees to report, regularly, essential facts concerning its management and financial condition. Trading Slow But Market Railies Quietly, Picking Up Monday's Losses

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 .- (INS)-Stocks rallied quietly in forenoon part of yesterday's losses.

Trading was slow with 180,000 shares changing hands in the first hour as against 290,000 in the same period yesterday.

Motors gained nearly a point and Studebaker lengthened an opening a full report of several trips made point advance. Rail stocks climbed in the last two weeks by him and sizable fractions. At 721-4 U. S. Steel was up 7-8.

Aviations were active and higher. Douglas recovered 11/2 of Monday's coppers were firm.

Cotton futures opened easier board. Early trading in grains found prices. "What happens to the governmixed. Bonds were virtually un- ment-owned plants operated by the changed in quiet dealings.

POST WAR BARGAIN

It's surprising that one of the best bargains you purchase requires no inspection as to quality. Whether you buy one-hundred units or ten-thousand, the quality is the same. Whether you live in a cottage or a mansion, the quality is the same. You don't need to stop, look and listen when you buy electricity. In fact, you never think of electricity as a commodity. Even though it's a finished product, manufactured from the raw product - coal, the important consideration to you is the kind of service you receive. You ask that it be dependable, that electric clocks run with a minimum of interruption, that the electric refrigerator continue to protect your food, that the electric range maintain the readily constant cooking service, that cleaners sweep your floors, that the laundry does its work, and that radio and lights continue to serve you. Pennsylvania Power Company has made every effort to keep service at peak efficiency and at low prices. This continuation of service is our number one postwar plan.
